

Rollover Report

October 2024 – November 2024

4th November 2024

OVERVIEW

Index Rollover Activity :

The previous week came to a close with many broader and sectoral indices showed a downward trend; however, the slowing of their negative momentum could be viewed as a positive sign. This shift may indicate a potential transition from a no-money market environment to a hard-money framework, which is further supported by market breadth indicators, including moving average extensions, breadth volume, and momentum in stock participation. In the preceding week, the Nifty not only breached but also closed significantly below the 100-day moving average, which currently stands at 24670. At the same time, the index fell below the 20-week moving average, located at 24750. Consequently, the resistance range identified at 24750-24650 becomes crucial. The Nifty's sustained position below this resistance zone leaves it vulnerable to continued selling pressure. Conversely, successfully reclaiming this zone would likely attract additional bullish momentum.

Top gainers were MCX, NATIONALUM, COFORGE, while DRREDDY & RELIANCE were major losers in October series.

Sector-wise Rollover Activity :

⇒ From the sectoral action, high rollovers were seen in Diversified, Power, Metals & Mining on the expiry day. Derivative stocks like TATA POWER, NMDC, HINDALCO remain on the radar for the November series.

⇒ From the sectoral action, low rollovers were seen in Fmcg , Media . Stocks like SUN TV , DABUR remain on the radar.
