

NIFTY SPOT : IMMEDIATE SUPPORT AT 25620-25500

Source – TradingView, BP Equities Research

The benchmark index witnessed a session of consolidation and volatility contraction following the previous day's turbulence, closing marginally in the green. The index formed an inside bar candlestick pattern, as the entire day's trading range remained contained within the high and low of the previous session's large candle. This formation typically signals a pause in momentum and indecision among market participants. Crucially, the index respected the immediate support zone of 25,500–25,600, finding demand near the intraday low. However, it is still trading just above the gap zone, creating a near-term resistance at 25,850. A breakout from this inside bar range will dictate the next directional move. Options data suggests a range-bound expiry view, with call writers capping the upside at 26,000 and put writers defending 25,500.

BANKNIFTY SPOT : IMMEDIATE SUPPORT 59800-59400

Source – TradingView, BP Equities Research

The banking index displayed relative resilience, registering gains of 196.85 points to close at 60,238.15. Similar to the benchmark, it formed an inside bar candle, signaling a temporary equilibrium between buyers and sellers after the recent volatility. The index successfully defended the psychological 60,000 mark, reinforcing the 59,800–60,000 zone as a critical support base. On the upside, the rally faced resistance near 60,400. The structure remains positive with a buy on dips texture as long as the index sustains above 59,800. Options data indicates that 60,000 has become a pivotal level, with significant put open interest acting as a cushion, while 60,500 remains the immediate hurdle for the bulls.
