

NIFTY SPOT : IMMEDIATE SUPPORT AT 24140-24000

Source – TradingView, BP Equities Research

The benchmark index closed at 24,091, down 117 points, closing exactly at the session low for a second straight session, mirroring Wednesday's bearish marubozu after opening at 24,278 and reaching a high of 24,297 that fell well short of testing the 24,430 resistance zone before sellers took full control. This decisively breaks the 50 DMA, and also pulls back below the 24,140 support that Tuesday's rally had reclaimed, keeping that zone contested rather than resolved. MACD line has turned negative for the first time since mid July, with signal at negative 40 and the histogram narrowing to 32, confirming the two session reversal has now dragged momentum below the zero line. RSI eased to 43, extending the slide below the midline. Volume jumped from Wednesday's, the heaviest session in over three weeks, lending real conviction to this breakdown rather than reading as a low participation drift. GIFT Nifty implies a gap up, which would open the index back above the 50 DMA and make today's session an important test of whether the two session slide finds support or extends further.

BANKNIFTY SPOT : IMMEDIATE SUPPORT 57000-56500

Source – TradingView, BP Equities Research

The banking index closed at 57,510, down 274 points, also closing exactly at the session low, opening at 57,985 and pushing to a fresh high of 58,012 that finally cleared the psychological 58,000 level intraday for the first time in this recovery, before a sharp reversal erased the entire gain, a rejection candle that gives back the breakout within the same session it occurred. This pulls the close back below the 50 DMA, reversing Wednesday's reclaim, though it holds above the 200 DMA, keeping that average as the deeper support that has anchored this range for weeks. RSI sits right at the midline, and MACD line eased, with the histogram narrowing, a milder momentum pullback than the sharp reversal in price alone suggests. Volume picked up from Wednesday's, lending some weight to the rejection at 58,000 rather than reading as a thin failed breakout. With Nifty's cue pointing to a gap up despite its own breakdown, Bank Nifty should also open higher, with the lost 50 DMA the level to reclaim and the failed 58,000 test still the key overhead level to watch.
